

CAN'T SPEND MORE THAN $554 EACH

Candidates for Administrative Board Must Also Pay $250 to Enter Race.

NEW PRIMARY LAW DRASTIC

Violation of Any Section Disqualifies Candidate, Even If He Is Elected.

Candidates for the Administrative Board will be limited by the new election law to an expense account of $554 each. Even so-called legitimate expenses in excess of that amount, except the entrance fee, are in violation of the law and may cause a candidate to lose the office, if elected. This is the first election in which the expenses of candidates have been so closely limited. Certainly in past campaigns for positions paying much less than the salaries of the members of the Administrative Board, the expenses have been far heavier. In the famous McCarthy-Richardson campaign, had there been a large item, the Academy of Music being rented more than once at what was reported to have been $150 per night. Incidentally, this provision of the new primary law illustrates the importance of voting in the general election, even where there is no serious opposition.

Expense Is Limited.
For the expenses of candidates hereafter will be limited on the basis of the vote cast in the previous general election for Governor. The law provides in Section 12 that no person, in order to be eligible for nomination, shall, directly or indirectly, through himself or another person, expend any money except for expenses expressly allowed by law. The permitted expenses include traveling, printing circulars, advertising in newspapers, stationery, postage, telephone and telegraph tolls, hall hire in which to address the voters upon public questions, and halls to be used as campaign headquarters. Violation of this section carries a fine of not less than $100, and conviction disqualifies the candidate from voting or holding office for five years. Section 16 limits the expenses of a legitimate character of any candidate for any purpose whatever, exclusive of the entrance fee provided by law, to an amount equal to 15 cents for every vote cast for the candidate in the last preceding gubernatorial election within the territory the qualified voters of which have a right to vote for the office in question. In the last gubernatorial election in 1909 the city of Richmond cast for governor Mann 3,691 ballots in opposition to the Republican nominee, Mr. Kent. At 15 cents each, this gives the limit for a candidate in this election in Richmond at $554.10. Violation of this clause carries a fine of from $100 to $500 and disqualifies the candidate from voting or holding office in this State for five years.

Salary Not Yet Fixed.
One cause of some comment in the campaign is that the City Council has so far failed to fix the compensation of members of the administrative Board. The charter specifies that it shall be an amount to be fixed by the Council at not less than $4,000 each. An ordinance approved by the Finance Committee making the pay $2,500 each has been on the table in the Finance Committee for several months. Lack of definite action before July 10 may raise a question as to the amount of the assessment fee to be paid, since the new law provides that each candidate must pay into the city treasury an amount equal to 15 percent of the first year's salary. If the assessment of $2,500 is made, the assessment fee for each candidate will be $375. With this assessment paid in, the State assumes all costs of conducting the primary.

The close limit of expense will prevent the hiring of campaign headquarters for an extended period and in other ways limit the activities of candidates in the distribution of circulars and printed matter.

AMERICANS EXPECT SWEEPING VICTORY

Sixty Athletes Will Be Chosen to Enter Olympic Games.

New York, June 9.—Confident that the showing made both East and West in the Olympic tryouts yesterday, coupled with the Pacific coast records, spells the most sweeping victory Americans have made in the Olympic games, the members of the American team selection committee will meet here tomorrow to pick sixty leaders in the score of athletic specialties on the Stockholm program.

Matthew Halpin, manager of the team, who has twice been abroad with American athletes, said upon his return from Boston to-day:
"You can't make it any too strong. We have the best material ever to be seen in the team that sails for Stockholm. Tomorrow's day will be a world beater. Every one of our tryouts have been world beaters, and with the bunch together we shall be invincible."
This confidence was echoed by every one who has followed the weeks of preparations for the games. The preliminaries came to a climax yesterday with new marks by Leonard of Chicago, for 100 meters, by Keady of New York, and Patterson of Chicago, for the 1,500 meters; by Kramer of the Long Island Athletic Club, for the 10,000 meters, and the sensational pole vault record of 13 feet 2 1/4 inches by Wright of Dartmouth. The record of Horan, the high jumping marvel of the Pacific coast, at 6 feet 7 inches, of New York, and numerous other marvelous performances, give the American team, which will meet all comers at Stockholm, at least six new Olympic records in the events on the Stockholm program, and near records in practically all the other athletic events.

The preliminary showing is in remarkable contrast to the English tryouts, where only fair times and distances were made and the Canadian tryouts yesterday, in which no records were either broken or equalled. The combined Olympic teams will appear in New York for the first time at American League Park on Wednesday, forty-eight hours before embarking for Stockholm.
It was announced to-day that H. P. Drew, the negro sprinter from Springfield, Mass., who flashed into prominence yesterday evening by equalling the world's record for 100 meters, as well as Craig, of Detroit, Thomas, the international champion, Meyer, the national champion, and numerous other sprinters, would appear in the dashes.
With such a field, some look to see a new world's record in these events added to the team's credit. Altogether the meet will be the finest New York has seen and the committee in charge is arranging for a demonstration which will be national in its significance. Mayor Gaynor will act as honorary referee, and in addition will present a flag, which the athletes will carry to Stockholm. Diamond-studded gold medals will be given to the gold medalists with plain gold for second and silver for third places.

NATIONALS AIDED BY LOOSE PLAYS

They Fail to Earn Run, But Take Game From Detroit.

TENTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Chicago Wins Pitchers' Battle From White Sox, and Boston Whips St. Louis.

Detroit, June 9.—Loose plays by Detroit's second string players helped Washington win its tenth straight victory, 4 to 3. Not one of Washington's plays was earned. Besides coming on defensive work, Louden, Bauman and Owsley were weak in attack. Willett was handicapped by the absence of Stange, and did not go properly until the game was half over. Not a National reached first after the sixth inning, and only two hits were made subsequent to the two-run second in the fourth. Score:

EASY FOR RED SOX

St. Louis, June 9.—The Red Sox made their 1912 appearance here to-day, and had an easy time defeating the locals by a score of 9 to 2. Mitchell, who worked for St. Louis, was charged with all the pitching, the game being a foregone conclusion. Reddy, the Sox pitcher, was also hit hard, but kept his hits well scattered. Speaker's hitting was the feature of the game. He got a home run, a triple, a double and a single in five times at bat. Score:

A PITCHERS' BATTLE

Chicago, June 9.—Mogridge and Fisher engaged in a pitched battle to-day, and the former emerged the victor, the White Sox defeating the Yankees by the score of 2 to 1. Each pitcher allowed only five safe swats. In the fourth round Callahan was hit with the ball and scored on Collins's single and Zinn's error. In the fifth Weaver doubled and crossed the plate on a couple of hits, and in the seventh when Gardner singled, Callahan fumbled the ball, and the runner scored on two infield outs. Score:

LAST MEAL EATEN IN OLD MURPHY'S

Work of Demolition Begins To-Day—Everything Moved Into Annex.

Night Clerk George L. Yeager had the pleasure last night of eating the very last of millions of meals which have been consumed at the old Murphy's Hotel. In solitary state he consumed shrimp cocktail, oysters on the half, quail on toast, roast turkey stuffed with oysters, deviled crabs and hot bouillon, supplemented with other delicacies of the season. Cutting short his light luncheon, he arose from his seat at the dining-room clock struck the hour of nine.

Like magic every tablecloth was whisked from its place. The doors were closed, and a score of colored men carried everything movable out of the place into the assembly hall on the second floor of the Broad Street Annex, where the culinary arts will be practiced for the next year, while the new Murphy's is building.
At 3 o'clock this morning Mr. Yeager carried his register to the new office in the Grace Street Annex, where the first guest was registered on his arrival from the North.
"St. Francis Gloria Mundi."
Politicians in the old lobby last night reviewed the glories of other days—of how Governors and Senators and Congressmen and judges of the Supreme Court were made in the old walls of the hostelry. For many years the political life of the State has centered here, and it has been a byword that if one sat in Murphy's long enough he could see anybody worth while in the political arena of Virginia. Other quarters for such discussions must be found in future.
Pathetic indeed were some of the departures. J. L. Blanton, editor of the Virginia Journal of Education, clung to his old room until its furniture was pulled from under him, to go to the auctioneer with the rest of it. Former Railroad Commissioner T. J. Akers vacated the room he has occupied since 1841, and joined the Young Men's Christian Association. The last drink was taken in the old bar at midnight on Saturday, and the last game of pool was ended.

Early this morning the expert wreckers will begin to tear down the place long famous. Phoenix-like, a new Murphy's will speedily arise.

In the Good Old Summer Time

You Want Stories that entertain and thrill; that stimulate the imagination; fresh and invigorating; that carry you far afield, away from the discomforts that hot weather often brings.

The Illustrated Sunday Magazine of the Next Issue of

is just the kind of a magazine you need for complete enjoyment of a June Sunday.

First there is a story of mental suggestion by J. W. Muller, called "Night's Open Door"—a story that leaves all beaten paths—a story that you will want to read a second time.

Then there is that chronicle of the most unusual adventure of the Unusual Adventure Club. This story is by Hugh Pendexter, and it is called "The Man With the Ace of Hearts." It's original.

Mystic, exciting, rapidly approaching the great climax, Mrs. C. N. Williamson's story, "If the Sea Could Tell," reaches a most interesting chapter in next Sunday's instalment. A complete synopsis will enable you to begin it, if you have not already done so.
